Workplace e-Learning – Developed in exclusive partnership with the Practising Law Institute’s (PLI) elite faculty of lawyers, Corpedia’s ethics and compliance eLearning programs span hundreds of topics, all organized by functional level, activity and industry.	Rich and robust multimedia courses developed by an unparalleled collection of experts fully reinforce learning concepts, providing more productive and effective learning experiences. Corporations with unique cultures and operations can take advantage of customization based on their particular needs, including the ability to translate courses in more than 60 languages and adapt courses to fit into complex technological environments, such as integrating into over 50 proprietary and independent learning platforms.	Corpedia is the only compliance solution that partners with the Practising Law Institute and offers the broadest customization capabilities, including adapting off-the-shelf courses or building one from scratch.
Code of Conduct Services – Through its elite faculty, Corpedia offers a full range of code of conduct services to help you design a new code, or review, critique and update existing ones, plus create a training program around the results.	Code of conduct training is the underpinning of any effective ethics and compliance program and custom code of conduct programs communicate your organization’s core values and reinforce essential practices, behavior, ethics and business standards, helping you demonstrate a good faith effort to implement an effective compliance program.	Corpedia offers the broadest range of code of conduct services, from off-the-shelf to fully customized, fitting all types of budgets and time frames.
Global Risk Assessment – The Enterprise Compliance and Ethics Risk Assessment (ECERA™) gauges risk and exposure in over 200 distinct areas using Corpedia’s relevant proprietary tools and methodologies.	Federal Sentencing Guidelines require organizations to detect, monitor and track risks as a component of an effective ethics and compliance program. This full scale risk assessment consulting service enables you to identify, prioritize and address business ethics and legal compliance risks unique to your organization. The final report clearly defines risk, measures likelihood and impact along with alignment to business objectives, and provides the blueprint for improving your program’s effectiveness.	No other compliance solution offers the ECERA consultation and report to help you fully assess compliance risk within your organization.

Consulting Services – Corpedia’s experts team with you to ensure they are addressing the right risks at the right time with the right programs.	At any phase in your organization’s ethics and compliance initiative, we can ensure your ethics and compliance program is fully aligned with the Federal Sentencing Guidelines. Benefit from our experts’ insights on both sides of the equation – learn from former federal prosecutors regarding what the government deems an effective ethics and compliance program, and work with former ethics officers who have been in the trenches.	Corpedia separates from the pack with a total solutions approach for ethics and compliance programs. It is truly unique that Corpedia has experience on both sides of the table – whether it’s knowing what the government considers an “effective program” or having “been in the shoes” of clients and understanding the challenges they face.
Ethisphere Council – In association with PLI, LexisNexis® and the National Association of Corporate Directors, the Ethisphere Council is a peer networking and best practices group assembled to help those responsible and accountable for their ethics and compliance initiatives develop or maintain their programs.	The Council is dedicated to the research, creation and sharing of best practices in ethics, compliance and corporate governance among its member companies, and the development and advancement of its members through increased efficiency, innovation, tools, mentoring and advice. Council members have access to a vast array of tools and resources including exclusive compliance consulting, web casts and unlimited PLI events. Also included is a complimentary subscription to the world’s largest circulation magazine dedicated to compliance, ethics and corporate social responsibility, with more than 60,000 readers globally.	Corpedia and LexisNexis have taken the lead in creating this association to fulfill the needs of corporations committed to the belief that ethics and profitable business are not mutually exclusive – but rather inextricably intertwined. Forbes Magazine calls Ethisphere Magazine “best of its genre” and regards it as the standard bearer of publications of its type.
